DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-9, drawn to a method for determining the presence or concentration of a substance in a medium, classified in class 436, subclass 164.
 - II. Claims 10-25, drawn to a system, classified in class 422, subclass 50.
 - III. Claims 26-35, drawn to a method for fabricating a sensor, classified in class 436, subclass 518.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions I and II are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the product as claimed can be used in the materially different process of drug delivery to a target, wherein receptors on the microspheres bind to ligands conjugated with a drug, and the microspheres are delivered intravenously to a target.

3. Inventions II and III are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the product as claimed can be made by the materially different process of dip-pen lithography.

4. Inventions I and III are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions have different modes of operation, different functions, and different effects. Group I is a method that includes the limitations of providing a sensor in a medium, applying a light source, detecting light, and determining a presence or concentration of a substance, which are limitations that Group II lacks. Group II is a method that includes the limitation of optically coupling at least one microsphere and at least one optical core, and providing a surface of the microsphere with a receptor, which are limitations that Group I lacks.

Therefore, Groups I and III have different modes of operation, different functions, and different effects that distinguish them as unrelated inventions.

Art Unit: 1641

5. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper. In addition, because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for each of Groups I-III is not required for the other Groups, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

6. A telephone call was made to John C. Pokotylo on 14 January 2005 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

7. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
